ALL IS QUIET THIS MORNING

Expected That There Will Be No Further Outbreaks in Philadelphia
for the Present at Least.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 24.—With the arrival of the state constabulary in the city this morning, it was expected that the strike would be quieted and the streets cleared of the thousands of strikers who have been loitering in the city since the outbreak of the strike.

In all four companies of state police, now on duty in the city, have been reinforced by the constabulary. In all several thousand policemen are now guarding the property of the street car company and protecting the cars that the company is running.

The trouble of yesterday near the Baldwin locomotive works when the police were mobbed by workmen from the windows of the car shops and beaten down with iron bolts and scrap iron thrown will not be repeated as special precautions have been taken.

The state constabulary will also not be called upon for any future service at present as the presence of the men with the rifles had such a bad effect upon the mob that they were powerless to even prevent the looting and mobbing themselves. Many of the individual members, however, have been arrested in the city police.

Up to noon today there were no serious disturbances reported from any part of the city and it is expected that the day will close without any recurrence of the violence that has marked the past four days.

Word has been received here that President Taft has directed the Attorney General to ascertain if any of the United States mail cars have been interfered with.

This is taken to mean that if the report is that they have, President Taft will have the postoffice and attorney general's department enter into the trouble and the possibility of calling out state troops to protect the mails.

The strikers have telegraphed President Taft that the mail cars will not be molested, a report having been made

INTEREST SHOWN IN STATE LAWS

SUPREME COURT OF UNITED STATES HEARS INTERESTING
ARGUMENTS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—Whether a state may fix a maximum rate on a commodity of interstate commerce below the cost of transportation was the basis for a keen argument today before the supreme court of the United States. The legal representatives of the state of North Dakota defended the constitutionality of the state law of 1907, fixing the rate on coal and counsel for the Northern Pacific Railway company attacked it as denying a rate below the cost of service.

Attorney General Miller and Attorney T. F. McGuire and Guy C. H. Carless had filed a brief in defense of the decision rendered by the supreme court of North Dakota in favor of the law. Charles W. Dunn, general counsel for the Northern Pacific, had presented a brief, attacking the law and the decision of the state court.

The counsel for the state argued that the reason why the cost of service was not controlling where a single rate was involved was twofold: In the first place, it was contended, it was impossible to determine with anything like accuracy what such cost of service was. In the second place, there was no injury to the equitable title of the carrier as a result of the cost of service not being controlling, as long as the carrier was allowed on the whole to earn a fair profit on the investment in the business. Furthermore, it was contended that other elements may serve to make the rate a reasonable one, though it is less than the theoretical cost of service. In the case of the rate on coal, it was argued that it may be entirely reasonable for the state to put in force a low rate for the purpose of developing a great natural resource by stimulating the purchase of local coal in place of foreign coal through the reduction in the cost of the argument.

As to the argument that the reduction of the rate on coal meant an additional burden on other commodities, counsel for the state contended that it was illogical to speak of this as "robbing Peter to pay Paul." According to their point of view, the subject was neither more, or less than a case of proper rate classification with the incidental result that one commodity sustains a greater weight of expense than another.

A vigorous attack was made on the arguments of the railroad. "If the doctrine contended for by counsel for the defendants be sustained by this court," said the counsel for the state, "the development will not merely mark an epoch—it will inaugurate a revolution in the development of the law relating to the regulation of transportation charges by the railways of the country."

It was said that the result of a decision in accordance with the contention of the railroads would be to cripple seriously, if not practically to destroy, the rate-making power of the nation and of every state.

"The burden of proof is upon the railroads to show that the rate involved will cut down the net earnings of the railroad from purely intrastate business below the point of fair profit," said the state's counsel. "There is no evidence as to the gross receipts."

VENERABLE SENATE FIGURE IN DRAMA

"The Conflict," a New Drama By Preston Gibson, Is Given Its Initial Presentation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 24.—"The Conflict," a dramatization of the United States senate by Preston Gibson, the well known playwright, is to be given its initial presentation here tomorrow night by the Shuberts. It is a new story, around which are woven the exciting incidents of Wall street and the methods employed there. While it is not an attack upon Wall street, the incident of the play are very pertinent in this respect, and it is said that the author's shifts are directed at one or two widely known financiers who are not strangers to the senate chamber in Washington.

TOBACCO SUITS WAIT OIL CASE

SUPREME COURT'S VERDICT ON CASE ALREADY ARGUED HELD UP.

0 WAIT UNTIL MARCH

Important Ruling Is Expected In This Matter During the Next Month.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 24.—While the Supreme Court of the United States has vacated no information on the subject it is generally supposed here that the decision in the case of the American Tobacco Company, which has already been argued before the court, will not be handed down at least until after the argument in the case of the Standard Oil Company, which is set for March 14. Attorney General Wickersham, in his motion to advance the hearing of the latter case, described the two as essentially kindred, and suggested to the court that they be considered together.

Lawyers here generally agree in the outcome made by Mr. Wickersham to the court, that these two cases together present for its consideration "practically the entire range of modern industrial organizations in this country," and substantially every feature of the "trust question," so far as it falls within the purview of the Sherman anti-trust law. Yet they are not precisely alike; indeed, it is said that in some particulars they are so different.

SOUTH DAKOTA'S FACTIONAL WAR

FIGHT INVOLVING EVERY STATE
OFFICE IS ON

IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS

"Stalwarts" and "Progressives" Are Lined Up For a Fight to the Death
—Democrats Somewhat Hopeful

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 24.—The political atmosphere of South Dakota threatens the most serious storm that has swept the State in years. Unlike Iowa and other states the fight here between the "progressive" and "stalwart" Republicans is not confined to representatives in Congress, but extends all along the line of State offices from governor down.

Early in the month the "stalwart" Republicans came out with the announcement that they intended to put a complete ticket in the field, made up solely of members of their own faction. Today the leaders of the "progressive" faction met in conference here to take similar action. This is taken to mean that between now and June 7, when the state primary will be held, there will be a battle to the death between the rival Republican factions of South Dakota.

Former Governor B. H. Eldred is slated for the gubernatorial nomination on the "stalwart" ticket. In the formal announcement of his candidacy he endorsed the principles enunciated at the "stalwart" conference held here at the beginning of February. It is not anticipated that he will have any opposition in securing the nomination of his faction. In addition to the governorship the "stalwarts" have also picked their candidates for congress and for nearly all of the state offices.

The "progressives" so far have not been able to present so united a front as the "stalwarts," but it is expected that today's conference will accomplish much toward bringing about the desired harmony and unification on the "progressive" ticket. Much is believed to depend upon the attitude of R. O. Richards, one of the prominent leaders of the state. Mr. Richards, after having supported the "progressive" Republicans for five years, broke with them over a year ago in a latter repudiating Governor Vessey and Senators Crawford and Gamble. Ever since the breaking occurred politicians have been wondering what Richards would put forward this year. Recently it has been reported that a trace would be arranged between Richards and the Vessey faction, whereby Richards would be allowed to frame the platform and the Vessey people name the ticket. These reports have been denied and from all indications it will not be definitely known just where Richards stands until after the present conference of the "progressives" is over.

There is also some curiosity as to the course that will be taken in the coming campaign by former United States Senator Pettigrew. He is quoted as having said privately that there is no longer any Democratic party, that what was left of it was destroyed during consideration of the tariff bill, and that there ought to be a new party. Alleged extraneous on the part of the present "progressive" Republican administration will be the principal slogan of the "stalwarts" in the impending battle for supremacy at the June primaries, while anti-Cannon will be one of the main issues upon which the "progressive" Republicans will wage their fight for continued control. The "progressives" confidently declare that Vessey has made so creditable a record as governor that no one can beat him.

Some of the more hopeful Democrats profess to believe that the fight between the Republican factions will be so bitter that thousands of members of the faction which is defeated in the June primaries will be so disgusted that they will vote for the next November against their votes for the Democratic ticket.

The street car management insists that they now have nearly three thousand men working and that many of their former employees have applied for reinstatement. They also state none of the leaders will be taken back.

The high schools of the city have been closed until after the present trouble is over for the protection of the pupils, many of whom have to pass to and from school through strike centers.

The churches have also held union meetings to endeavor to bring about a settlement between strikers and the car company, but thus far without any signs of success, although a special committee is now meeting with the strike leaders.

Despite the report the state troops will not be used all the armories are kept in readiness for instant call of the troops to duty and men from each company report their whereabouts so as to be ready to answer any call for service.

Close watch is being kept by the police for any further outbreaks by dynamite and many suspects have been arrested and locked up in the different station houses.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

INTERURBAN CAR CASE ON TRIAL

Jury in Municipal Court Listened to Evidence and Arguments in Lawrence Alberts Assault Action.

Before a jury composed of T. H. Cullen, W. S. Phillips, Albert Nott, A. E. Dodge, James R. Sheldon, and Carl E. Brockhaus, the trial of R. L. & J. C. Lawrence Alberts, on the assault and battery charge preferred by Edwin Brown, was commenced in municipal court this morning.

Attorney Louis Avery, representing the prosecution, outlined the case from his client's standpoint, stating that it would appear in the evidence that Brown was a man about 50 years of age who had lived in Janesville and vicinity all his life; had followed farming as an occupation the larger part of the time but had conducted a saloon on River street from July, 1906 to July, 1907; that one of his limbs was crippled; that on Saturday, Feb. 5, he went to Beloit to see a sister, Mrs. Donner, who was ill at the hospital and who had since died; that he started back to Janesville that evening on the 9:15 car, after procuring a sack of peanut candy at a corner store; that he took a seat in the smoking compartment and gave his ticket to the conductor before the car had passed the city limits; that at a point half way between Beloit and Janesville the conductor approached him and again asked him for a ticket and upon being informed that it had already been given to him and refusing the proffer of some of the candy, went out; that when within about a block of Pleasant street, Brown got up and went out onto the rear platform and told the conductor that he wished to get off at that corner; that then and thereupon the conductor grabbed hold of him, exclaiming: "Come back here or I'll punch you in the nose!" that when Brown expostulated, asserting that he was not drunk and wanted to get off at Pleasant street, the conductor shoved him down the steps and shouted "Get off them— you!" that Brown in attempting to save himself from the wheels he ran into the brass grab-iron with one hand; that the conductor then picked him up by the abdomen to break his hold, the car moving all the while; that Brown fell sideways, his right shoulder receiving the brunt of the impact with the ridge of ice beside the rail; that when he told the conductor in Baker's drug store a few moments thereafter that because he wore a uniform and brass buttons, he couldn't abuse passengers, the latter told him to "shut up or he would hit him on the nose."

Attorney Thomas S. Nolan in presenting the defense's case, declared that while it might be true that one of Ed. Brown's limbs was crippled, his tongue was certainly not; that he couldn't tell much in advance about Brown's doings in Beloit but that when he got on the car his appearance indicated a man who had imbibed more or less intoxicating liquor; that he persisted in getting out on the platform of the car, though repeatedly warned that it was against the rules; that he made impertinent replies when so warned; that Mr. Alberts had been employed on the road for six years and was one of the best men on the line; that Brown heaped abusive epithets upon him for laying a detaining hand upon his person and that instead of staying off the car, once he had alighted, tried to get on again; that the conductor did what he could to save Brown from injury; that he did not kick him and that Brown did not fall, so far as Alberts could see, if there had been any such outrage committed on the prosecution had pictured, counsel said that the passengers would certainly have gone to Baker's drug store with complaints. As it was the complaint was made to produce a single witness of the alleged assault. Edwin Brown, the complainant, Dr. H. W. Edson, who examined his shoulder, and J. P. Baker, who overheard the colloquy in the drugstore, were called to the stand by the prosecution and gave their evidence this morning. Lawrence Alberts and several other witnesses for the defense testified this afternoon and all the evidence was in and the case was ready for argument at three o'clock. It was expected that Attorney Avery would open and Attorney William Smith would close for the prosecution and Attorney Nolan was to make the plea for the defendant.

DRAYMAN ADVISED TO GIVE UP TEAM

Found Guilty of Neglect of His Horses in the Beloit Municipal Court.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, Feb. 24.—District Attorney Fisher conducted a prosecution in the municipal court yesterday afternoon and secured conviction in a case brought by the Humane society which was different in its character than any case he has ever had to deal with, for which conviction was desired and proper under the charge. The mental attitude of the defendant was that of a person doing his duty by his horses and causing pity for him. The defendant was John Frayer, a drayman, who was charged with underfeeding and neglecting to furnish shelter for a team of horses. Frayer denied the charge and also said that he would appear in court without an attorney because he could not afford one. Witnesses for the prosecution testified that the horses were poorly stabled and appeared to be almost starved. Frayer showed that he bought plenty of feed. He thought the stable he used was all right when others considered it inhuman. The district attorney suggested that the man give up the team if he was too poor to own them and Frayer made a pathetic plea for a right to carry on his business. The jury found Frayer guilty of neglect and Judge Rosa this morning held off sentence until later. The community is greatly stirred with indignation at the way Frayer uses his horses and yet all pity him as a poor man making a hard fight with poverty. He will probably lose his horses as an outcome of the prosecution.

The state executive board of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in this city, March 1 and 2. There will be the business of the organization transacted and public temperance meetings.

REV. R. M. VAUGHAN VERY WELL LIKED

Berkeley, Cal. Paper Speaks in High Terms of Former Janesville Pastor's Work.

A Berkeley, Cal. paper, speaking of Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, has the following to say of his work in that city during the time that he has served as pastor. "At the morning services today of the First Baptist church of Berkeley, Rev. Richard M. Vaughan formally accepted the call to the pastorate which was tendered him two weeks ago. His acceptance is the cause of general satisfaction. Since Mr. Vaughan came here the congregation have been so large that the services have had to be held in the Masonic Temple. It is intended soon to erect a church building which will be of ample size for aggressive work. "Mr. Vaughan came to Berkeley last October as pastor of the Evangelical church, declining a professorship in the Colgate university at a handsome salary as the successor of William N. Clarke, D. D. He was graduated with high honors from Brown university and the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. Before coming to Berkeley he was pastor for seven years of the First Baptist church of Janesville, Wis., which, under his leadership, became the largest Baptist church in that state. For a number of years Rev. Vaughan conducted the Sunday school department of the 'Standard' of Chicago, and his expounding of the lessons was considered as among the very best published."

DOMINION RIFLE ASSOCIATION MEET

Prize Lists of Annual Competitions Will be Extended—Earl Grey to be Present Tomorrow

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—The Dominion of Canada Rifle Association formally opened its annual meeting here today. Without transacting any business of importance the meeting adjourned until tomorrow when Earl Grey, the patron of the association, is expected to be present. One of the principal matters to receive attention at the meeting this year is the proposal to extend the prize lists at the association's annual competitions. This is deemed necessary in view of the large increase in the number of contestants, which has made very difficult of late years for men to get within the money.

MAIL TRAIN USED TO CARRY SHAVINGS TO BELOIT ICEMAN

If Sliced Wood Goes First Class, How Do the Line City Citizens

Beloit receives shavings on fast mail trains, that is in special cases, not as a general rule. George H. Crum, who has an ice house in the Line City, wanted some shavings, badly. That was last Saturday. According to the bill of lading, the car was shipped from Neenah on Jan. 1, but somehow or other, had been left in the Janesville yards, or so Mr. Crum supposes. Naturally, he was somewhat put out, because of the delay and perhaps on the ground that his shavings were in danger in this city. So he notified the company that if the car did not arrive before Monday, he would refuse it. It came. And on a fast mail train, too. What, Mr. Crum rejoiced, much!

CLUB HOUSE PLANS OF THE NEW ORDER

Janesville Lodge of Moose to Consider Having Building Erected for Their Special Use.

If the present plans of the Janesville Lodge of Loyal Order of Moose be brought to a successful issue the lodge will be housed in a building that is to be erected for their special use. The committee on permanent quarters, composed of John L. Fisher, chairman, Henry Klein, George Williamson, R. L. Lay, Dr. Edden, E. W. Miller, Ernest Moyer, L. Gage and Walter Taylor are to meet in Dr. Edden's office to confer with the gentlemen making the proposition on Monday evening and will report to the lodge their decision at their next regular meeting. The building, if erected, will contain club rooms, bowling alleys, reading rooms, a fine gymnasium, baths, hand ball and basketball rooms and will be a modern, up-to-date structure. The new organization plans to make a special feature of their athletic events and already the committee having this in charge have plans laid for a baseball team, a track team and other outdoor events during the coming summer. At the meeting last evening it was also decided to close the charter with a banquet at Assembly hall. The date set was March 8th and all members of the lodge are privileged to bring one outside guest as well as their wives or fully friends. It is expected that fully a thousand will be accommodated at the long tables which will be laid in the hall, the committee having this feature in charge making plans for that number at least. The next meeting will be held on March 4th at Assembly hall at which time a class of fully a hundred will be initiated. The supreme officers of the lodge will be present and it is expected that the Rockford degree team will confer the work, assisted by the local degree team which is now being drilled in the work.

He was singularly gifted; and his teacher was uplifted by the frequent contemplation of the genius he displayed; in the calm abode of learning there were children vainly yearning for a chance to shine beside him, but he made their efforts fade. He was great on composition, showing wondrous erudition, for a lad of fourteen summers, and the lovely things he penned, stirred up all the village wags, and they said that future ages would be dwelling on the glory of their gifted youthful friend. "As a speaker he's a wonder and we love to hear him thunder forth the burning words of Homer as they flashed were by Pope; he'll advance by hasty stages," said the good old village wags, "till he hits the highest places—we are handling out straight dope." Did that shining youngster, wonder him a gasping wren learning when he left the home? He's a most ambitious brudder; in his last he was the loser, but he's writing to the papers saying that he'll fight again.

THE MADAME JUMEL
Is a Sterling Silver pattern produced in a complete line of Spoons, Forks, Knives and Fancy Pieces.

Thoroughly Colonial in the simplicity of its lines and the reticence of its ornamentation it also suggests, in the pervading grace of its design, the late 18th century school of French-Neo-Classicism.

The Attractiveness Of Our Store

Is increased by our display of the Madame Jumel. Admired by all who see it—it would be still more admired on your table.

Handsome pattern on the market. Will last for generations.

The highest award in the CERTIFIED CREAM contest was to G. Van B. Roberts, Highland, N. Y.—Score 99—a DE LAVAL user.

The highest award in the CREAMERY PATRONS contest for hand separator cream was to G. B. Fisher, Viroqua, Wis.—score 93½—a DE LAVAL user.

Full details of all the entries and scores have not yet been made public, but there is no doubt that the vast majority of all exhibits scoring 90 and above will prove to have been DE LAVAL made, as heretofore.

Incomplete reports have been received of highest butter awards at the various STATE FAIRS this year, but practically all of them have been to DE LAVAL users, including particularly New York, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, North Dakota and South Dakota.

As has been said before, the separator does not of itself insure the making of the best butter, but the superior mechanical and sanitary bowl construction and low speed of the DE LAVAL separator indisputably enable the production of better cream and better butter under the same conditions than can possibly be made in any other way.

This is something that even the most enterprising and resourceful of those who seek profit through the manufacture and sale of would-be competing separators never attempt to explain or deny—that practically all the best butter, as evidenced by the highest awards in all representative butter contests, is and has for more than twenty years been made by users of DE LAVAL cream separators.

SPORTING CHANCE

The average Englishman is nothing loath to take a sporting chance on almost any proposition and his American cousin follows the lead as promptly as a thought to the "stano horn." With the North Pole in the pockets of the American explorer, nothing really great is left for the Englishman to compete for except the Southern territories of the earth. Hence he will bend all his energies to plant the "Lion" of England there ahead of the eagle of America. The coming contest between the two nations in the great race for the southern pole will shortly begin and the world at large will watch with interest its outcome.

In all history the rivalry of the nations in exploration never yet has shown itself in a contest that so nearly fulfills all the conditions of a genuine race.

The English expedition will start from one side of the antarctic continent, the American from the other. The pole will lie almost midway between them, and the start will be made at about the same time.

Both expeditions will be equipped in the light of the most recent polar exploration. The American will have the benefit of Peary's counsel; the English will have the benefit of Shackleton's.

The English expedition will follow Shackleton's course, and will have the advantage of a known route to within 111 miles of the pole. The American expedition will start from a point 1,800 miles from that taken by the English and will cover an unknown route 100 miles longer.

The English expedition will be headed by Captain Robert F. Scott of the British navy. The leader of the American expedition has not yet been selected. Peary has suggested that the command be given to Captain Robert A. Bartlett, former skipper of the Roosevelt, who led the supporting party that accompanied Peary farthest north in the recent dash to the north pole.

It is to be hoped that Peary's suggestion will not be followed, as it seems desirable from both the American and English point of view that the international character of the contest be preserved. Captain Bartlett is an Englishman. If the honor of the discovery of the south pole is won by the American expedition it will be a matter of national regret that an American was not in command.

The advantage certainly will be on the side of the English. Captain Scott has had the benefit of former antarctic work. In 1901 he led an expedition which reached a point 500 miles from the south pole. This seems the best route so far opened. Lieutenant Shackleton passed over the same ground last year when he reached within 111 miles of the pole. The quest for the north pole, which has held the imaginations of men in its spell for centuries, is now at an end. The search for the south pole has never made so romantic an appeal to the exploring spirits of the world, but it has now the distinction of being the only monumental feat of discovery that remains undone.

The race between England and America to win the last great honor of exploration will arouse the sporting blood of the world. It may be applied called the South Pole Derby. It will be as much a sporting proposition as the St. Leger or the Brooklyn handicap.

Will the Stars and Stripes be the first flag to wave in triumph at the south pole, as it was at the north, or will the victory go to the Union Jack of England?

In the spirit of fair sportsmen, both nations have accepted the conditions of the contest. May the best men win?

MANY THEORIES

Politicians are much worried just at present over what is to come when the campaign for state offices really begins. Frequent conferences between the leaders of the two factions of the republican party have thus far brought about nothing but chaos. It is said that today the leaders of the conservative element are in Washington to confer with Senator Stephenson, while it was reported yesterday that former Speaker Ekers and Holmes, editor of La Follette's magazine, were in Chicago in consultation with the chief.

When the decision of State Senator Morris of La Crosse to be a candidate for lieutenant governor was announced there was a disposition in many quarters to regard it as the tardy outcome of a meeting between supporters of that gentleman and supporters of Francis E. McGovern in Milwaukee some weeks ago, and to conclude that it assured a consolidation of the Morris following with that of Mr. McGovern in favor of the latter candidate for the head of the state ticket.

Madison political speculators went so far as to say that there was a full state agreed upon, as follows: For governor, F. E. McGovern; for lieutenant governor, Thomas Morris; for secretary of state, James A. Peary; for treasurer, A. H. Dahl; for commissioner of insurance, Hermann L. Ekers; for attorney general, Frank T. Tucker.

From the home city of Senator Morris comes an entirely different story. The La Crosse Leader-Press takes the view that the Morris announcement is born of an understanding not with Mr. McGovern, but with William Mitchell Lewis of Racine, and is the result of a social call which Mr. Lewis and Postmaster Gittings of Racine made upon Senator Morris at La Crosse two weeks ago.

The Leader-Press says: "Senator Morris has done, after a three hours' conversation with Captain Lewis, what he protested he would never do, after the famous conference in the Kirby House at Milwaukee, which lasted all the afternoon and night."

Then there are others who would have us believe that Lewis' candidacy is merely for advertising purposes for Mr. Lewis and that when the time comes he will retire gracefully leaving the field open to McGovern, who will have only Strangers to fight along with the candidate of the conservative element. At any rate the politicians are much worried and will continue to be so until after the primaries next September.

Thus far there has been no modification of the climate in Alaska to fit the presence of the American capitalists who desire to make a few millions up there before the rest of the world gets onto the untold riches of this country.

It is up to the city of Philadelphia to explain to the waiting world what dynamite has to do with the expansion of "Brotherly Love." Dynamite has been used for anything but this purpose in the past few days and the question seems pertinent.

It seems a shame to have the heroes of our history books torn down and trampled upon by a mere writer who seeks to gain advertising fame for his volume which for all we know may be a tissue of falsehoods.

In trying to prevent Cato from running amuck every so often the state of Illinois pays a pretty penny. They do try to do things down in "Egypt" that they do not think of in other parts of the Sucker state.

Taking it all in all, one would not care to invite Dr. Wiley to a dinner party. It would be somewhat inconvenient to have him explain all the table dainties as dangerous if eaten.

There are some persons to whom the name of Colonel Roosevelt is as distasteful as was the "Hogey" of childhood, and they are not all "mole-factors of great wealth" either.

It is difficult for the civilized world to make any pretense at a show of sympathy for Abdul Hamid despite his pitiable condition as a prisoner of the Young Turks.

Milwaukee has put a sanitary towel into its public schools and in many of the depots throughout the state. Janesville included, sanitary drinking cups are to be found. This is a step in the right direction.

When King Edward made his little speech to the parliament he made some original remarks that showed that he really has a bit of humor that one would not suspect on a casual acquaintance with him.

An Australian states that New York's rude cart and mule still caught young New Yorkers can be trained just as well as the rest of the youths.

It looks as though the Lords have had their day in England and that now the Commons are about to step in and handle things to suit themselves, for a short time at least.

There is a report that Morgan and the Guggenheims are waiting for the Halloy comet with an idea that perhaps they can annex it to their present holdings.

Perhaps, after thinking it all over, the New Jersey grand jury wonders where it got the nerve to do it. It has done regarding those naughty trusts.

When the coal is all exhausted, some two or three centuries to come, will the cement people have something just as good?

The only question is now being asked in England: Is the House of Lords or the House of Commons responsible for the recent storm?

Paradise costs worn by the imported eggs are causing quite a flutter in local hen-houses in America, but thus far none of the hens have sought to imitate the fashion, thank fortune.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE BIG APPLES ON TOP.

The other day a man came to my door with some apples he was selling from a wagon.

"Are they all like those in your hand?" I asked.

"Yes, sir, all of them."

"Then you may bring me a bushel,"

Protesting by past experience with this man, I went down cellar when he made the delivery. The apples on top in his measure were fully up to sample, but when he poured out the remainder, somewhat unimpressed, they were discovered to be small and knotty.

I said to him: "My friend, why do you try to deceive people in this way?"

These are not the sort of apples I bought of you."

The fellow flushed and grew angry, but finally laughed, saying, "Oh, they all do it."

Whereupon I replied he was mistaken in his supposition that all men are dishonest. And I told him the story of a Michigan fruit grower.

This grower inscribed, together with his name and address, the following paraphrase of the Scriptures on every crate of his peaches, "By his fruit ye shall know him."

He packed three grades of fruit. And he made this standing offer: If you could find a second grade peach in a first class crate or a third rate peach in a second grade crate you could keep the entire crate free of all cost.

The result?

One commission house in Chicago handled this man's crop for years, and usually his entire season's shipment was sold in advance.

He grew rich, proceeding on the theory that honesty is the best policy.

When I had finished the story my apple man appeared interested, but unconvinced.

I told him to take his apples back to his wagon, and nowadays when he drives past my house he whips up his team and looks straight in front of him.

Like many others, he believes that the ways that are dark are promotive of prosperity and that it is "smart" to deceive.

Business is built on faith, and when you destroy faith you destroy business. Since the time when the primitive merchants of Arabia invented drafts—and before that—men have traded on promises to pay and to deliver.

Misrepresentation ruins trade.

But my apple man will never see it that way. He does not believe that honesty is the best policy, to say nothing of the ethics involved.

He cheats because he thinks it pays. But he is mistaken.

LOCAL OFFICERS TO BE AFFECTED

SUPREME COURT DECISION HITS
ROCK COUNTY OFFICE-HOLDERS.

MUST RETURN ALL THE FEES

Clerk of the Court Earle and County Clerk Lee Will Have to Return Naturalization Fees.

By the decision of the state supreme court in the case of Barron County against C. J. Barron, clerk of the Circuit Court, in which the question of the fees collected from the issuing of naturalization papers was at stake, which was decided in favor of the county, Rock County will receive several hundred dollars in fees that have been collected by both former Clerk of the Court Stevens and present Clerk Jesse Earle, as well as by County Clerk Lee for fees collected by him.

There has been some doubt in the minds of the clerks of the circuit courts of the state as to their rights to retain these fees, but before the bringing of this lawsuit opinions were secured by Jesse Earle, clerk of the circuit court here, from the attorney general of Wisconsin, from the department of naturalization at Washington, from the late Judge Dunlap, and from present Circuit Judge Hon. George Grinnick. All of them were of the opinion that such naturalization fees did not belong to the county but to the clerk personally under the statutes.

It should be said that the clerk performed these services voluntarily for the accommodation of the people of Rock county, and that he cannot be compelled to do this work in which event applications for naturalization must be made to the federal court at Madison.

Mr. Earle was not satisfied even with the opinions of these men and agitated the matter of having the question finally decided by the supreme court. As a result of this agitation this case was instituted as a test case. It seemed to Mr. Earle that this matter should be decided once for all, so there could be no question about it because he and, in his judgment, all of his predecessors did not want to retain anything from the county to which they were not legally entitled to.

Feeling this way about it, the question was presented to the supreme court as stated. It is now settled that the county is entitled to these naturalization fees and it is due to the effort of Mr. Earle that this decision has been procured.

Of course under this decision all fees collected under these naturalization laws will be turned over to the county. It might be said that the supreme court in deciding the question stated that the case was one by no means easy of solution.

The decision holds the broad proposition that all county officers upon a strictly salary basis must turn over to the county all fees from whatever source obtained.

THE SHURTLEFF CO.

TOBACCO SUITS
WAIT OIL CASE

similar that the court might find in favor of the government in one case, and against it in the other.

The two cases are alike in that they are proceedings in equity to enjoin alleged violations of the law of the land—neither is in its essence a criminal action; in neither does the government seek to procure either imprisonment of individuals or exemplary fines upon the defendants. In both suits the charges pressed are those alleging unlawful combination and conspiracy in restraint of interstate trade and commerce, and continuing monopoly, or attempted monopoly, of important elements in interstate commerce.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is attacked as a "holding company." Out of its $100,000,000 capital stock, over $95,000,000 was exchanged in 1899, according to the government figures, for stock in nineteen other corporations, engaged in the various branches of the petroleum business.

The American Tobacco Company is alleged to be both a holding and an operating company. It is actively engaged in the tobacco business, owns its own shops and sells the manufactured products. In the case of the Standard Oil Company, the raw product is to an extent produced by the corporation; in that of the tobacco combination the raw material is purchased.

While the Sherman law does not specifically prohibit the organization of holding companies, the Supreme Court declared in the Northern Securities case that the holding company constituted an organization in restraint of trade and commerce.

The government charges that from the time of the organization of the Standard Oil company in 1899, a monopoly was obtained; that in fact for years prior to that a virtual monopoly had existed, and that the various forms which the conspiracy alleged against the company has taken, have been merely adaptations to the changing needs and conditions of the time.

In the tobacco case, it is alleged that originally when the merger was consummated in 1899, there was a monopoly only in the cigarette trade; the defendants claim that the control of the business then secured has since materially dwindled.

The Standard Oil's counsel have contended that the corporations which in 1899 entered into the agreements complained of had long since ceased to be competitors. In the tobacco case, the defendants contend that their acts have been confined merely to the acquisition of manufacturing property; that manufacturing corporations are under no legal obligation to compete—the prohibition being against special agreements to suppress competition; non-competition as the result of the acquisition of property is, the defendants insist, not a violation of the statute.

Another difference between the two cases lies in the fact that the Standard Oil company is charged with offenses against the Sherman law alone; the tobacco corporations are charged with offending also the Wilson tariff act of 1891, which extended the application of the anti-trust law to any conspiracy in restraint of trade, one party to which was an imported. Furthermore, the government is seeking to establish the rule that a corporation entering into an agreement abroad which in purpose conflicts with American law, gains no immunity from the fact that such an agreement is lawful in the foreign country.

It is suggested that the commodities handled by the Standard Oil company may be more properly called "necessaries of life" than those dealt in by the tobacco corporations.

Attorney General Wickersham in his argument of the tobacco case expressed the opinion that a different element would enter into the trade in an absolute necessity of life, as distinguished from one that was not a necessity, because such a commodity "was charged with a public use, just as much, if not more, than what is called public utility companies."

As the result of the hearing in the circuit courts, other differences were either made or became apparent. In the tobacco suit, the court did not find sufficient evidence to hold that there was a monopoly in the trade in question, although it did hold that there was a combination in restraint of trade. In the Standard Oil case, the court was unanimous in finding that there was an illegal monopoly, in addition to there being a conspiracy.

Boxer Fatally Hurt in Fight.

London, England.—Ernest Barry of England is to have a chance to take the world's sculling honor from Richard Arnold, the Australian, who now holds the title. A match race has been arranged between Barry and Arnold, to take place on the Zambesi river in August. Before this event comes off, Arnold goes against Welch, the Australian champion.

Barry has won an enviable reputation among British scullers and has come to the front fast. Trainer Sullivan believes that he is looking after the man who will be the next champion of the sculling world.

Jim Corbett By WALT MASON

Big Jeff and his foe are roamin' around in the darkness—their glory is dim, for Corbett is holding the stage with his scolding—a beautiful talker is Gentleman Jim. His voice is resounding, explaining, expounding, for Jeff has engaged him to get him in trim; he's writing, dictating, he's busy orating—a fountain of wisdom is Gentleman Jim. He's rambling, he's moaning, he's long distance phoning, he tells how the smoke will be torn limb from limb; he's hopeful, he's buoyant; a gifted chairvoyant, a seer and a wizard is Gentleman Jim. He's bigger, he's brighter, than any old fighter; the pugs are mechanics—they're not in the swim; the language that's furnished, the wind that is furnished, must come from the bosom of Gentleman Jim. Without his endeavor the big fight would never attract much attention; receipts would be slim; so—bless his old plectrum—long, long may he lecture! This life would be sad without Gentleman Jim!

WRINGERS FOR MOPS

Fastens in Corner of Sink and Squeezes the Yarn Dry.

A mop-wringer for ordinary household use has been devised by two Missouri men. There is a mop-wringer device attached to buckets used by janitors and housewives, but such a contrivance is not so useful in the home as the one all here shown. This new wringer consists of a conical rim with a hook on the side by which it can be hung in the corner of the kitchen sink. It is open at the bottom and has openings at the sides to permit the outflow of water. Along the inside is a series of blades that engage the mop when it is thrust in the rim and held in when it is twisted. A couple of twists of the handle and the yarn can be squeezed as dry as though it was run through a rubber-wringer. This device has an additional advantage over the wringer attached to a bucket in that it can be used conveniently not only to dry a floor mop but to wring out the small mop that women use in washing dishes.

BLADES ENGAGE THE MOP.

Woman Educators.

Intelligent women should be consulted in matters of education generally and in the treatment and discipline of children especially. But more particularly are they the best judges of the education of girls and the subjects they should be taught. The great majority of public school teachers are women and it might be well to have women on the governing board, with whom these teachers can confer more freely than they can with men.—Baltimore Sun.

RESIDENT TAFT IS FOR ECONOMY

AVORS BUDGET SYSTEM FOR REGULATION OF GOVERNMENT'S FINANCE.

DEPARTMENTS ARE WASTEFUL

Speech Regarded as Keynote of Administration's Campaign Looking to Reduction of High Cost of Living—Would Pension Old Employees.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 24.—"Let us hope, however, that the prosperity of our country is founded on such a substantial basis that no flurry in the stock market may prevent the continuance of good business on a substantial basis."

Before 800 representative businessmen of the state of New Jersey President Taft, as the guest of honor at the dinner of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce, gave utterance to the above remark and sought forth a wild tumult of applause. The president spoke on economy in the administration of the government and endorsed the Aldrich plan for a commission to investigate government expenses, with a view of a sweeping reformation of the manner of making appropriations, and came flatly in favor of a budget system, which the government finances may regulate.

The president talked of waste in various departments of the government and suggested that the way to curb it is to have a system such as in vogue in other countries where a schedule of expenditures is made up with reference to the income. The president touched broadly upon the phases of government policy, addressing among other things, the lack of completion of the Panama canal, the payment for the loss of bonds, the pushing of river improvements and the building up of the army and navy.

Two Battleships a Year.

Like his predecessor, President Taft sees the necessity of expanding the navy and he advocated the construction of at least two battleships a year while the Panama canal is being rushed to completion. He believes, so he told his hearers, that it is little to add to the naval strength of the United States. "So as to provide ample protection to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. After the canal is built, he says, the country is then left to half its strength of the navy but not until then, President Taft was in hearty accord, he declared, with the idea of a proposed congressional commission to decide upon some new organization of the government's departments with the end in view of economizing expenses. If reform in government could be attained by any method suggested by the commission, the president would endorse its recommendations. He suggested that consolidation of various departments might be feasible.

Would Pension Old Employees.

Another important recommendation made by the president was the pensioning of what he called the superannuated employees of the government and the substitution in their places of new employees who would not waste money paid to them. This question in the commission, if appointed, to go into and President Taft indicated that he hoped the commission would find some way by which the pensioning of the government employees could be administered with more regard for practical results. The president's speech, with its various suggestions as to government economy, was regarded as the keynote of a campaign to be carried on by the administration looking to the reduction in the high cost of living. President Taft's appearance in Newark was the occasion of a tremendous ovation all along the line. It was since President Grant made a visit to the city in 1872 that Newark had the opportunity to gaze upon a president, and the whole town made holiday of it.

ROKER DENIED REINSTATEMENT

Member of J. M. Fluke & Co. Practically Expelled.

New York, Feb. 24.—Clifford M. Ashburn, floor member of the firm J. M. Fluke & Co., one of the brokerage houses which went down disaster in the stock exchange slump January 19, was declared by the clearing committee of the stock exchange to be ineligible for reinstatement. This is the pulpit way, according to stock exchange ethics, of telling a member that he has been expelled.

Michigan Editors Talk Shop.

Day City, Mich., Feb. 24.—The forty-third annual meeting of the Michigan Press association began here today with a session given up largely to "shop talk." This afternoon there was a reception for the women, and to night a ball will be given. The most closes to-morrow evening with a banquet at which the speakers will be William Allen White of Emporia, Kan., Cy Warner, Chase S. Osborn and H. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids.

To Safeguard Depositors.

Washington, Feb. 24.—A bill which would amend the federal law of the protection of depositors of several states, making it a felony for officers or employees of national banks to receive money on deposit when the institution is in an insolvent condition, was favorably reported by the house banking and currency committee.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST PACKERS ARE EXPECTED

Report Declares National Packing Company and Ten Subsidiary Concerns Will Be Indicted.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—That the National Packing Company and ten of its subsidiary concerns would be indicted shortly was a persistent rumor around the federal building, but none of the government officials would allow themselves to be quoted as confirming it.

As to whether or not the individual officers and directors of this company are to be included in the proposed indictments there has been no intimation whatever. The smaller companies which are said to be controlled by the National Packing Company and which, it is believed by many, will be named in the indictments, are as follows:

G. H. Hammond Company, Michigan.

Anglo-American Provision Company, Illinois.

Omanha Packing Company, Illinois.

United Dressed Beef Company, New York.

St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision Company.

Western Packing Company, Denver.

Colorado Packing and Provision Company, Denver.

Plankinton Packing Company, Milwaukee.

New York Butchers' Dressed Meat Company of New York.

Hammond Packing Company, Illinois.

The purpose of the government is to break up the National Packing Company and to put it entirely out of existence. Each company, as well as the parent company, will be prosecuted and the maximum penalty will be asked. If this is granted then each concern will be fined at least $5,000.

TO STOP SALE ALASKAN LANDS.

Beveridge Introduces Plan to Defeat Big Syndicate's Designs.

Washington, Feb. 24.—That the coal lands of Alaska shall never pass from the ownership of the government is the purpose of a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Beveridge of Indiana. The action came as a sequel to the revelations of representatives of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate before the senate committee on public lands.

The value of the coal deposits of the vast territory purchased from Russia in 1868 is placed by Senator Beveridge at several billion dollars. The Indiana senator also presented a bill authorizing the government to lease Alaska coal lands, fixing a limit of 2,500 acres to any one individual or corporation. The limitation is fixed to defeat the supposed designs of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate to lease all the coal lands in the territory. If the bills are enacted they would wipe out all the Cunningham claims that led to the Hallinger-Pinchot controversy.

SEEK PURER DRINKING WATER.

Lake Michigan Cities Will Ask Congress to Regulate Dumpage.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Important measures for the purification of the drinking water of the cities bordering upon the southern extremity of Lake Michigan were advocated at noon today by representatives of 30 municipalities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan. The meeting was the annual session of the Lake Michigan sanitary commission and was held in the Grant Northern hotel. One of the issues brought up was an appeal to congress to regulate dumpage by large dredging concerns. A federal statute is sought which will make more effective the rules now enforced by the department of war.

CASHIER SHORT; IS IN ASYLUM.

Joseph T. Conner Said to Have Confessed to Theft of $3,000.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Joseph T. Conner, until a few days ago cashier for the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railway at its Waukegan office, has been committed to the Elgin insane asylum after confessing that he was short in his accounts $3,000. It is said.

Conner is 28 years old and was considered one of the road's most efficient men in handling station finances. His confession is reported to have been made to the auditor of the road and he is said to have charged that an acquaintance knew of his defalcations and levied blackmail on him.

NELSON LOOKS LIKE A WRECK.

Departs from Frisco to Fill Chicago Theatrical Engagement.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Looking "a wreck and sore in mind and body" over his defeat, Rattling Nelson and his manager left for Chicago where he plans to take part in the theatrical engagement. Nelson's left ear and jaw are bruised and swollen, his left eye is very black and nearly closed, while his right eye is not much better.

BANK SHUT; BOOKKEEPER GONE.

Cambridge Institution Is Looted of $144,000—Is Insolvent.

Boston, Feb. 24.—Following the discovery that the National City bank of Cambridge had been looted of $144,000, the doors of the institution were closed probably forever, by National Bank Examiner-Popper, acting on behalf of the comptroller of the currency.

Later a warrant was issued for the arrest of George W. Coleman, the young bookkeeper of the bank, who was last heard from in Kansas City a few days ago. Coleman is charged with embezzlement.

The institution is insolvent, the capital stock of $100,000 and the surplus having been wiped out by the defalcation.

The wrecked bank carried deposits of $127,132, mostly the money of small tradesmen. It was organized in 1863. Among the stockholders are Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard college.

TRAIN KILLS TWO IN CRASH.

Score of Others Are Hurt in Collision at Denver Crossing.

Denver, Col., Feb. 24.—Two persons were killed and 20 others hurt, several probably fatally, in a collision of a Union Pacific passenger train and a street car in Denver.

The locomotive of the passenger train, which was running at high speed, struck the front part of the street car, hurling the car across the tracks.

The motorman and a woman passenger were killed. It is feared several of the injured may die.

TURKS AND BULGARIANS FIGHT.

Several Are Killed in Skirmish Between Frontier Guardsmen.

Sofia, Feb. 24.—There has been a conflict between Turks and Bulgarians on the frontier, in which, according to dispatches from several points, there were a number of casualties. The trouble arose over an attempt by a Turkish patrol to disarm a Bulgarian frontier sentry in the district of Tarnash. The Bulgarian villagers joined in the fight which followed. The Turkish troops brought artillery into action and it is stated that several persons were killed.

CUT PRICES, OUT OF CHARITY.

Latter Day Saints Reduce Cost of Their Cereal Products.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 24.—For purely philanthropic reasons the prices of cereal foods manufactured by the Institutional Bakeries of the Church of the Latter Day Saints will be cut in half, according to a report made at the conference of the northern union, which comprises Iowa, Minnesota and the two Dakotas. The cut in prices will extend to cereal foods manufactured by the Battle Creek sanatorium, and to bread made by their bakeries.

CZARINA'S DOCTOR A SUICIDE.

Physician Takes His Life by Poison When Czar Rebukes Him.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—Dr. Botkin, the czar's private medical attendant, died suddenly a short time ago. It is now stated that the doctor committed suicide in consequence of the discovery that he had made a serious mistake in diagnosing the malady from which the empress is suffering. The condition of the czar's wife became worse and the czar reproached Dr. Botkin, who became so distressed in mind that he took a dose of poison.

Seventy-Four Escape from Mine.

Central City, Ky., Feb. 24.—An explosion of gas in the mine of the Iron Mountain Coal Company, three miles from here, probably fatally burned Warren Gibbs, a miner, but 74 men who, with Gibbs, comprised the day shift, escaped with bruises.

Little Lesson in Publicity No. 12.

Many advertisers employ press agents who move heaven and earth in their efforts to secure FREE publicity in Daily Newspapers, while they buy advertising in other mediums.

Success would be worth the effort, but the straightforward, honest business office way would be more effective and leave a better taste in your month.

Buy publicity in Daily Newspapers in the regular advertising columns and pay for what you get.

It would be cheaper and just as good for your business, as that which is secured without the publisher's knowledge or consent.

Any general advertising agent or the publisher of this paper would tell you how.

POSTAL BANK PLAN TO REACH VOTE TO-DAY

Rayner and Bailey Speak Against Bill After Which Roll Call Will Be Asked.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Senator Carter, in charge of the postal savings bank bill, will ask a roll call on the measure this afternoon, when Senators Rayner and Bailey shall have concluded their speeches attacking the constitutionality of its provisions.

The bill is still entangled in difficulties and Mr. Carter, as its sponsor, is uncertain as to its fate. The Root and the Smoot amendments, one looking to the investment of postal funds in government securities and the other practically prohibiting such a course, are still playing see-saw with the bill.

"They hold their positions and so far there has been no disposition shown by the author of either to relieve the situation by withdrawal."

It was at first believed that Senator Root would withdraw his amendment. He has not advised Mr. Carter that he would do so, but, on the contrary, appears quite as tenacious as in the beginning.

PAROLE DECISION IS STAYED.

Supreme Court Justices Meet in Chicago—Jail Delivery Averted.

Chicago, April 24.—The justices of the supreme court of Illinois, at a meeting in Chicago, issued an order directing that all further proceedings in the Joyce case, which resulted in the parole law of 1899 being declared invalid, be stayed until the April term of court.

It also was announced that the decision in the Joyce case shall not be acted on as a final judgment until the petition for a rehearing is disposed of. This means that attempts to secure the release of prisoners in the state penitentiaries on the theory that the parole law of 1899 is void will be ineffectual until the supreme court is again heard from.

The step taken by the supreme court justices also means that the separation of numerous state employees from the pay roll has been deferred indefinitely.

ETHEL BARRYMORE, ACTRESS, ILL.

Suffers from Severe Cold Which Threatens Develop Pneumonia.

New York, Feb. 24.—Miss Ethel Barrymore has seriously ill in the home of her husband, Russell T. Colt, and the distinguished society throng that reached the Empire theater last evening found the house dark and the doors closed.

She is suffering from a heavy cold, which threatens to develop into pneumonia.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be toward the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SWAMP ROOT is for sale at SMITH'S PHARMACY as well as all other Patent Medicines.

Story of a Good Idea.

The history of any good cause may be divided into four stages. First, the world ignores it. Then it ridicules it. That failing, it tries to crush it. But when the idea triumphs over indifference and ridicule and opposition the world builds monuments to it. This is the travail of truth. These are the labor pains in which freedom is born.—Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow.

Take the Post-Office Out of Politics

In attempting to charge up the deficit in his Department against the magazines the Postmaster-General has done the country a genuine, even if an unintentional, service. He has drawn attention to the necessity for a thorough reorganization of the Postal Department. He has emphasized the importance of taking the Post-Office out of politics for all time.

The Fifty-ninth Congress authorized an investigation of postal affairs, and a joint commission, headed by Senator Penrose and Representative Overstreet, made a thorough investigation of the whole subject. As a result, the Overstreet bill, which contains many excellent recommendations, was presented. It is not from guesswork that we have concluded that the Department is in need of radical reorganization, but from the official reports of this Joint Congressional Postal Commission and of the disinterested accountants hired by it to investigate the business methods of the Department. We quote from these reports, remembering that the findings and criticisms are not ours, but those of a Congressional Commission and its authorized agents. First read these recommendations from the preliminary report of the Joint Postal Commission, in this week's number of

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Then read these extracts from the report of the public accountants employed by the Joint Commission:

"The service has grown from small beginnings over a long period of years, hampered by restrictive laws which may have been necessary in the past and may even now be considered necessary to some extent for a Government department, but which would render it practically impossible for any private business to survive."

"The general absence of any efficient methods of accounting has been brought to light by the inquiry carried out by the Joint Commission on second-class mail matter. This report was referred to Congress on January 30, 1907, and our investigation has confirmed the impression gathered from the study of it, that the whole of these methods are crude in the extreme and such as no private business concern or corporation could follow without the certainty of loss, if not of financial disaster."

There are half-a-dozen more of these extracts on the Editorial page of this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

In the Joint Postal Commission's report of 1907 we find:

"As an indication of the views at present entertained it is proper to say that the commission is profoundly impressed with the wisdom of the accountant's report in recommending the following:

"That the actual direction of the business of the Post-Office Department and postal service be committed to an officer with necessary assistants to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for long terms, so as to insure the continuity of efficient service; and that the Postmaster-General, as a member of the Cabinet, be chargeable only with general supervisory control and the determination of questions of policy."

We ask Congress to give us a Director of Posts—as recommended by the Joint Congressional Committee of 1907, an officer who shall be non-political, and whose term of service shall not be subject to political changes, and who shall conduct the workings of the Post-Office Department with the efficiency, economy, and businesslike methods which distinguish high-class American business enterprise.

Acres and Bible Letters.

It has sometimes been stated that there are more acres in Yorkshire than there are letters in the Bible. A person hearing the statement for the first time is inclined to doubt it, but it is true, all the same. Authorities differ as to the exact acreage of the county, one giving it as 3,882,348 and another as 3,771,812. But the number of letters in the Bible is said to be 3,506,180, so the acres beat the letters with something to spare.—Notes and Queries.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"EAST is east and west is west. And never the twain shall meet." That's like some people's idea of right and wrong. They imagine that all sin comes labeled "sin—temptation of the devil." They do not believe that temptation ever comes disguised and that a man may do wrong without fully realizing it. "Right is right and wrong is wrong," they say, "and there can be no neutral ground."

Mrs. Quinn's Philosophy

"Miss, dear, are you an av. thing ory moses or just a pecky miss?" asked Mrs. Quinn as we gathered up the tea cups. I tried to make my position clear, although the things I see are not aids to optimism and pessimism. She began to laugh and shook her head.

MRS. QUINN.

Wasn't it just sweet of him?" she said. The next year the order went as usual to the same jeweler. There was no reason it should not. The society was satisfied with prices and service. And the nice girl received another pin at New Year's.

Two years ago this same nice young woman was elected to the school board. There had been much grafting by the committee and the people who made her a candidate said they did so because she was as honest as the day was long and would never graft.

She was appointed a member of the two sub-committees that had charge of buying supplies and promoting teachers.

The next Christmas I was at her house and she showed me a beautiful mahogany rocker. It was the gift of the firm from which the committee on supplies had bought the desks for a new schoolhouse and from which they later bought new chairs for another school.

"Wasn't it just splendid of them?" she said. "They are such nice people to deal with."

Was she a grafter? One day she came to my house wearing a beautiful new sweater coat. I admired it.

"Well, what do you think of it?" she said. "One of the teachers that I've met several times sent it to me for a valentine. Isn't it a beauty? See the pockets and how perfectly that sleeve is turned."

The teacher was one who was expecting a promotion in the fall. She got it. She was a capable teacher and doubtless deserved it.

Was the nice young lady a grafter? If the teacher had given her ten or fifteen dollars and asked for a promotion, or the furniture dealer had given her fifty and asked her to vote contracts for him, and she had accepted, you might say she intended to graft.

But as it was, there was no direct bribery and I know she considered the teacher worthy of promotion and thought the furniture firm a good one. Don't you think there was some chance for doubt, some shading between right and wrong there?

What am I trying to prove? Just that it isn't always so abstrusely easy to tell right from wrong and that some things are inclined to call sin may be simply errors in judgment rather than intention.

AFTERNOON VISITING COSTUME OF GRAY SATIN.

When gray becomes a woman there really is no shade which makes a more satisfactory afternoon visiting costume. The one shown is of slate-gray satin made with a demurely draped circular skirt surmounted by a sheath tunic bordered with gray hand-embroidered and apparently closes in front over a boned and fitted peasant bodice to which it is actually attached. The blouse of gray chiffon cloth, veiling white satin has a yoke of embroidered gray maline and a gray straw turban trimmed with coral velvet, is draped with a white princess lace scarf.

from purely intra-state business; no evidence as to the gross expense properly chargeable to such business; and no proof of the value of the property which may be fairly said to be engaged in the carrying on of such business. It, therefore, stands admitted upon this record that despite the ratio in question, these defendants can earn at least a fair profit upon their purely intra-state business."

On the other hand, the counsel for the Northern Pacific contended that in order to be constitutional, the rate must permit a fair amount of profit for the railroad.

"No one can contend it to be necessary for the protection of the public," said the railroad's counsel, "that any rate be fixed by legislative authority below the cost of furnishing the service. Such a contention would be contrary to the fundamental purposes of the public power. And viewing the situation from the standpoint of the public, it can have no interest which ought to compel a carrier to furnish certain classes of service at less than cost, thus to charge the loss against the balance of the service. Such a principle is contrary to public policy."

"Any discrimination by a public service company, which consists in rendering a service below its cost, is unjust discrimination and unlawful. It is inconceivable that a test of reasonableness will be adopted by the court which would compel carriers to do the very thing forbidden by law. And just rule therefore of rate regulation must preserve to the carrier both the right and the ability to render all services at remunerative rates."

"If the regulation compels a carrier to render a portion of its service at less than cost," said the counsel in closing, "inevitably this loss must be distributed over the balance of its business unless the carrier can refuse to render the service. The latter alternative is impossible. All service rendered at the carrier's expense is subject to regulation of many states as well as to that of congress the necessary result of one state requiring service to be rendered at less than cost is to impose the loss on citizens of other states and on the business of the country at large."

DAILY DIET HINTS

THE CONCORD GRAPE.

The Concord grape is worthy of its name. It contains every element of nutrition and can support life indefinitely. As a blood purifier it is unequalled. It contains tartaric, malic and citric acids and iron in form easily utilized. In cases of blood poisoning there is no better remedy. An exclusive diet of grapes for a week or more is beneficial in almost any case. It seems to have a peculiar power of normalizing cell nutrition. The juice of the grape, unfermented, has been well called the milk of age, for it is better adapted to the exclusive food of an aged person than is milk. The skins should be thoroughly chewed, after being well washed, and only the little tough remnant rejected. The more direct the fruit is eaten from the vine the better, but the commercial bottled grape juice is generally satisfactory. It may be eaten with other fruits, but not with starches. The best results are obtained by eating it alone.

Covering the City and Country

If no publication in Janesville had a circulation of more than 1,000 copies, modern advertising would be impossible. In some localities there would then be subject a duplication and others would be untouched, and to use all publications would be prohibitive.

With a medium like The Gazette that covers this entire territory, modern merchandizing is possible. The advertiser knows where he is advertising. He knows what kind of people buy The Gazette and why they buy it.

Progressive advertising logic leads the most merchants to use The Gazette as the medium of maximum efficiency.

MAY ROBSON IN A CHARMING COMEDY

"The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" Delighted An Almost Capacity House at Theatre Last Night.

It goes without saying, of course,
that in these days of "poured houses," electric-lighted old homesteads, and rural free delivery which carries the mail-order catalogue to the remotest precincts, bright and wealthy maiden ladies like "Aunt Mary Watkins" are not nonplussed by porcelain-lined bathtubs, nor hoodwinked regarding the intricate and mysterious of college life, nor "taken into camp" by grape-fruit, oyster, cocktails, and automobiles. More's the pity, too. For there really ought to be someone to find a child and new-erending delight in all these new things, someone capable of entertaining surprise and holding up a mirror to the blase age, and "Aunt Mary"— impertinent, shrewd, lovable, and justified by the person to do it. And because she is wanted and needed, May Robson makes her exit, regardless of her something more real and life-like and altogether delightful and overwhelming than most persons one has ever known in the realm of reality.
So "Aunt Mary's" credentials are O. K.
after all.

An audience that was "near capacity" forgot all about low-temperature discomforts and rejoiced in the outcropping of things temperamental
in the course of Aunt Mary's rejuvenation at the Myers theatre last evening, except when the leading character, herself, made allusions to the bitter night, which she did on several occasions. Miss Saville as "Leticia," the long-suffering servant in the Watkins house, was impressive. So was Lettie Dickie as "Daisy Watkins," whose husband, Charles, was "as handsome and a good husband, as husbands go."
"Aunt Mary" said that depended on
"where he was going" and "reindeered
the object of charity that man when she gave her the money for the wedding clothes." "Aunt Mary" portrayed the character of the "rejuvenated" nephew in a very acceptable fashion and his "college outfit," which possessed all the exuberance necessary for the background of the picture.
Faye Cusick was charming as "Daisy Burnett," the important factor in the "heart interest" phase of the comedy,
and all the other parts were well taken.

There are many droll situations and bright and sparkling lines in this little drama by Anne Warner and just enough touches of pathos and deep sentiment to furnish the needed contrast. "If you know how strongly we women feel, there wouldn't be a bad man in the world," says "Aunt Mary."
In acknowledging the nephew regarding the one sin she will never pardon. And again—telling the tragedy of her own life: "I waited and watched till my hair turned gray and my eyes grew dim and he never came back—yes, what kind of hair oil do you use, anyway?" The conversion of the four-piece bed into an automobile, with the lever-down freezer steering gear, in the last act, was a delicious touch, even if it did border on the grotesquely absurd.

It is only fair to say that Manager Myers exerted every possible effort to have the theatre warm and comfortable and that conditions over which he had no control were responsible for whatever discomfort had to be endured. The company was to have arrived here at 12:50 but were snowbound between Sheboygan and Fond du Lac for four hours and did not get here until 5:30 p. m. That made it necessary to move the scenery, baggage, and properties in at seven o'clock and left, instead of the five or six hours needed for five below zero weather, hardly an hour in which to heat the place again. When it is remembered that the stage is 75 feet high, with a floor area 60 by 25 feet,
it will be seen that no matter how good
the radiation, this could not be done within such a time limit. The furnace was kept going at the highest possible pressure and everything that could be done was done in a light against odds with Old Boyars.

For the child, because its work is effective, its action gentle, its taste pleasing.

MAKING READY FOR THE COMING SEASON

Games Committee of Golf Club Is Arranging for Games Next Summer.

The Games committee of the Sheboygan Golf club are making arrangements for the coming season's play.
Last season handicaps of the local players have been carefully kept under lock and key and will be used this season in establishing handicaps for the opening game.

Early in the season the west side
—the victors of last year—will meet the east side, and closely following will be the usual play for the hanging trophy.

Aside from the regular play during the season long driving handicaps, obstacle putting competition and cross country competition by mixing up order of holes for the day, and the "swatfest" introduced last season by the Nobles club and out of the ordinary rut will be part of the season's program.
"Swatfest" are sweepstakes, and the entries, no matter how many, all play together. On the first green for instance, all who do not hole in "2" drop out of the contest, which, by this process of elimination, becomes a match between two, and they may play it out or divide the pool as they wish. Should a player get a lucky "2" at the start he would sweep the pot and forthwith end the "swatfest."
"Optional club" contests will also form part of the season's program.
Before the tee shot the player himself has the club he will use for second shot, and before each succeeding shot
the club with which the next lie is to be made. The best laid plans in golf "cut gang angles" and fun lies in the frequent blunders between a player's intentions and his performance.
Another curious game is to play without knowing what one's handicap is, termed a blind handicap. In this the committee selects a certain net

score and sends it up. Each player handicaps himself and the net score nearest to that in the envelope wins.
Equally entertaining from its uncer-tainities is the select competition handleup. The conditions are that only the scores on any twelve out of eighteen holes will count for the prize,
and only the committee knows the reserved holes. It is a stroke play match, and the contestants are as much at sea as though blindfolded, each hoping that the good holes he makes are to count on the poor ones are among those cancelled.

Match play against "bogey" with the "bogey" raised, but kept secret until cards are posted on certain holes will form one of the no end of curious changes that will be tried in occasional handicaps.

It is the Games committee rule that each player's proper score be posted so that no preposterous cards will be handed in during the contest.

and Strained Ligaments of Her Neck.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

lady attending the local high school,
Miss Helen Shafer, met with a peculiar accident yesterday while passing

The funeral of Mrs. M. J. Zentner of Albany, who died in a Milwaukee hospital from the effects of an operation for the removal of a tumor, was held from the Baptist church, of which she was a member, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, attended by a large delegation of old friends and relatives, who met for the last time to pay her homage. The remains were laid to rest in the Gap cemetery. Mrs. Zentner was the elder daughter of Dr. J. B. Norton and Nathaniel Stephenson and for many years with her husband occupied the "Front farm" east of the city. With the exception of a few years spent in other parts of the county she has always been a resident of this county.

Social Affairs
Twenty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs.
Marens Davis, residing two miles southwest of Monroe, gave them a farewell party at their home, as they expect to move to Monroe soon. An oyster supper with all the extras was one of the features of the evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Davis will occupy the house on Racine street, recently purchased by J. B. Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bennett, Mr.
and Mrs. P. F. West and Mrs. Eliza-decorations were appropriate for the occasion.

has issued invitations to members and their ladies to a Pythian anniversary at Castle hall Friday evening, February 25.

ton are the parents of a little son.

Palmer Trial
The justice office was filled to overflowing yesterday at the trial of Dan Palmer, which was held before Justice W. T. Sauerbaum. Complaint was made by Judge J. M. Becker, expressing a number of charges of unlawful acts, for the purpose of having him declared a vagrant and committed to jail. The charges were more directly upon language used by Palmer the night he was out with Robert Becker, previous to the latter's commitment to Mendota asylum.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bragg have started on their trip to Old Mexico.
The most of their time will be spent at Mexico City, but several trips will be made to distant points during their stay there. They expect to be gone about two months.

at Madison last evening to witness the second production of the Junior class play, in which their daughter, Miss Phoebe Twining, took the leading part.

engaged as housekeeper at the God-dards home, left yesterday afternoon for her home at Big Stone City, S. D.
Mrs. Eugene A. White and daughter,

from a month's visit at Pasadena, Santa Cruz and San Francisco, Cal.
Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Boney and daughter are here from Deerfield, show in Milwaukee. Mr. Dodge has an exhibit of Indian motorcycles there.

WHITAKER IS MADE DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Former Janesville Man Sued by Irate Proprietor of Barber School in Milwaukee.

M. H. Whitaker, formerly of this city, but at present secretary of the barbers' state board of examiners,
has been made defendant in a suit for $5,000 damages by D. W. Cline, who conducts a school for barbers at 321 Wells street, Milwaukee.
Cline alleges that Whitaker on April 21, 1909, circulated a printed statement among his pupils that the plaintiff was conducting his school in an unlawful manner.
In an affidavit filed with the complaint Mr. Cline says that Whitaker has made threats to him that he would "run him out of business and run down his school whenever the opportunity offered."

CARDINALS DEFEATED THE ROCKFORD TEAM

Locals Given Hard Rub Last Evening
at Rink in the Best Game of the Season.

Janesville "Cardinals" basketball team won their seventh victory last evening at the West Side rink building, defeating the "Alumni" five of four, composed of Rockford high school stars and former college players, by the score of 22 to 13. The Rockford team was the fastest proposition that the Janesville squad has run up against, and the visitors had better luck in growing baskets.
They would have carried off the honors. The contest was rough from start to finish and resembled more the college style of playing than the A. A.
U. which has prevailed in former games. The score was so close throughout both halves and the two sides were so evenly matched that the excitement and interest of the spectators was intense. The match started out with a scramble by both teams to make a goal and get the other side
"agaping" but it was fully five minutes before the first field goal was made by a Janesville player. Five minutes later Rockford made one from the field and tied the score. Rockford got but one more basket in that half and scored one point on a free throw. Janesville, however, edged the ball five times and also made a point on a free throw. The score at the end of the half, 11 to 5, was in favor of the "Cardinals."

In the second half the playing was even closer than in the first part of the game, but Janesville managed to get two more field baskets than Rockford. Janesville's record in this half was 12, Rockford 8.

Final score: 23 to 13.

The lineups of the teams:
Janesville: Cunningham, right forward; Robertson, left forward; Sennett, center; Langdon, right guard;
Beers, left guard.
Rockford: Redbach, center; Osborne, left guard; Hildebrand, left forward; Robinson, right forward; Miche, right guard; Osberg, substitute.

Field goals: Sennett, 5; Robertson,
3; Redbach, 2; Langdon, 2; Robinson,
2; Cunningham, 1. Free throws:
Robinson, 3; Robertson, 1. Referee,
W. Carls. Umpire, H. Kemmer.
Scorers: Baker and Thompson.

PLAY FOR THE TITLE TOMORROW EVENING

Janesville High School Team Meets
Columbus H. S. Here for Championship of Southwestern Wisconsin.

At the high school tomorrow evening it will be decided whether or not the Janesville high school basketball team will participate in the state interscholastic basketball tournament at Madison on the tenth, eleventh and twelfth of next month. The "strong" team of the Columbus high school is coming to this city to play the locals and the winner of the contest will be the champions of the southwestern district of the state and eligible to participate in the Madison tournament.
Edgerton was scheduled to play here Friday, but in order to take part in the state tournament the match with Columbus would have to be played and the date with Edgerton was cancelled. On March fourth the locals are to meet the Wausau high school team here for the title of the southern district of Wisconsin and entrance in the tournament at Appleton, under the auspices of Lawrence college, on March 31 and April 1 and 2. The contest tomorrow night being a match game for a title, an official from Madison will act as referee.

BELOIT MAN IN A BAD PREDICAMENT

Unknown to Henry Kopp, Judgment of Divorce From Former Wife Was Set Aside and He Married Again.

Henry Kopp of Beloit who obtained a decree of divorce from his wife, Emma Kopp, by default on grounds of desertion, April 3, 1906, and who subsequently married another woman, is in a serious predicament. For, unknown to him, a discovery was made a few months thereafter that the publication of the summons had never been completed and on Sept. 11 of that year the circuit judge, on his own motion, had an entry made in the minute book setting aside the judgment. The late J. W. Bates was attorney for Mr. Kopp. Now comes Mrs. Emma Kopp, the first wife, with a divorce proceeding in which she demands expense money for litigation and alimony. The defendant was stunned when Sheriff Schellert served the summons and complaint on him
the other day and said to him that there had been some terrible mistake, as he had obtained a divorce long ago. It is not probable that the court will hold him criminally responsible for having two wives at the same time but that will not entirely clear the situation as he is a laboring man and unable to pay any considerable alimony and still support his present helpmeet.
